

Lake Full Day

Lady Bird Lake has experienced varying water levels over the years. In September 1960, the lake reached its fullest capacity ever. While it was previously utilized for electricity generation, it has become one of Austin's most beloved recreational spots today. Visitors can enjoy a plethora of activities, renting paddle boards, kayaks, and canoes from places like Austin Rowing Center, EpicSUP, and Austin Rowing Club.